QUANTITY SURVEYORS

Founded in 1975 by Arthur W. Hooker and led by an experienced and talented management team and staff of professional quantity surveyors, the firm provides full-service independent cost consulting services to both the public and private sectors of the construction industry from early feasibility study through construction. The business success and growth of the firm is attributed to their mandate of providing meaningful and timely cost advice, their commitment to service excellence, and the hands-on involvement of the senior partners in every aspect of the company's business. The firm is comprised of dedicated quantity surveyors including in-house mechanical and electrical cost specialists, with offices based in Oakville (head office) and Ottawa, Ontario. A heavy focus for our projects in recent years is on decarbonization, energy and sustainability where we are seeking talented and creative professionals to expand our team.
